It is hoped, the proprietors of CENTINEL, BARROCK-BILLEY, or the QUONDAM INVINCIBLE SKIM (QUANTUM MUTATUS AB ILLO) will back him, that the World may have an opportunity of being convinced of the great inferiority of even the purest blood, when brought into competition with SIZE, STRENGTH, and BEAUTY.

If an Hundred Guineas is thought too trifling a sum for the above champions to contend for, the owner of GOLIAH is willing the match should be for TWO HUNDRED.

D'ELLIENT & ALEXANDER,

HAVING found it necessary to remove their SCHOOL, have provided a convenient house for that purpose, in Meeting-street, two doors to the southward of the White Meeting; where the English, French, Latin and Greek Languages, Writing and Arithmetic are taught as usual.

They have furnished themselves with a prudent house-keeper, and all attendance and accommodations requisite for the boarding, lodging and washing of young gentlemen from the country: By the advice of some persons of distinction, they are determined to take some Boys as Day-Boarders, whose distance from the School, may render it inconvenient for them to return home.

The PUBLIC may be assured, that all possible care will be taken of the conduct, as well as education, of children.

Colleton-County, Jan. 13, 1767.

BROUGHT before me to be advertised, by Patrick Carrol, overseer on Mr. John Izard's plantation, near Jackson-borough, two strays, viz. one chesnut riding gelding fourteen hands high, 4 years old, one of his hind feet white, a star in his forehead, long docked, branded on the mounting shoulder thus ⅄ in one, and on the off shoulder something like the same mark, but not plain.

The other a brown bay riding gelding 13½ hands high, about nine years old, branded but not plain enough to be made out. The owner must apply within six months from this date, and prove their property before JOSEPH GLOVER, J. P.

LONDON, November 15.

WE are told that the supply to be granted to his Majesty will be one million; and that his Majesty is to give up Enfield-chase, which is to be parcelled out in lots, to be made freehold, and sold to the highest bidders.

The Marquis of Kildare, now created Duke of Leinster, is the only Duke of the kingdom of Ireland, that has been since the late Duke of Ormond's time.

It is said that Mr. Wilkes is not returned to Paris, but is gone to reside some time in Holland.

NOVEMBER 18.

The king of Denmark has issued an ordonance by which he forbids his subjects to wear any gold or silver lace upon their cloaths.

It is reported, that the right hon. Mr. Secretary Conway will shortly be created an English Peer.

The right hon. Hans Stanley, Esq; it is said, will be created a Knight of the Bath, before he sets out on his embassy to the court of Petersburgh.

The celebrated Miss Kitty Fisher has, within these few days, been married to ——— N———, Esq; a gentleman of considerable family and fortune.

NOVEMBER 21.

They write from Quebec, that since the establishment of a Roman Catholic Bishop in Canada, many French families of substance were preparing to re-embark from thence for Quebec, which they had quitted at the conclusion of the late war.

We hear, that an estimate of the expence for establishing dock-yards and a marine arsenal at Milford-haven in Pembrokeshire, is preparing to be laid before an august assembly.

Circular letters have been received at all the principal ports in the Mediterranean, inviting foreigners to carry on a trade with the inhabitants of Corsica.

NOVEMBER 25.

This day arrived the mails from France and Holland; by which there is advice, that the Empress Queen has made a grand military promotion, and nominated Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, the Hereditary Prince of Modena, the Count de Wied, and the Baron Charles de Donnel, Field-Marshals.

It is said the Parliament will break up in March; and that their Majesties intend soon after to visit their German dominions.

We hear that Lord Chatham's plan for providing for the Royal Family is this:

400 000l. to make good the deficiencies in the civil list.

The Duke of York to be Lord high Admiral, with the usual salary.

The Duke of Gloucester to be Field Marshal and Generalissimo of the English forces, with a salary.

And the Duke of Cumberland to be Lord Lieutenant (or Viceroy) of Ireland, for life, with a certain to support him.

It is for this purpose, it is thought, that the million will be granted; part of which will be raised by the sale of Enfield Chace in small freeholds, as before-mentioned.

It was a mistake in naming George Augustus Pitt to be advanced to Peerage by creation, as he has a title to three dormant Baronies, namely, Morley, D'Arcy, and Mont Eagle, which he lays claim to; and it is said will enter on in his own right.

When the King of Prussia and Prince Ferdinand separated, 'tis said no further occasion was given for the quarrel than this: At a great review the King said, Je ne sais pas comment de vos troupes aujourdhui. Your troops displease me to day. On which he answered, Sire! si je ne sais pas faire de mieux dire que vos troupes ne sont pas contente de vous. Am sorry to say, Sire! the troops are displeased with you.

NOVEMBER 27.

We hear the exportation of wheat, wheat flour, barley, malt, bread, biscuit, and starch, will be prohibited to be exported till the 14th of September next.

It is said, that his Majesty in council will be empowered to enlarge the prohibition of exporting corn till twenty days after the meeting of next session of parliament; or in time of vacation of parliament, to take off the prohibition, if found expedient.

NOVEMBER 29.

It is still said, that a certain celebrated exile will soon be restored to his country, and with marks of Royal favour.

Lord Chatham's motto is Designo Numine; and his crest is a stork with her right foot upon the claw or paw of a golden anchor, both erect.

Yesterday the Duke of Portland resigned his place as Lord Chamberlain of his Majesty's household.

The same day the Earl of Hertford resigned his place of Master of the horse; and afterwards kissed his Majesty's hand on being appointed Lord Chamberlain, in the room of the Duke of Portland.

It is said that the Duke of Richmond will this day be appointed Master of the Horse, in the room of the Earl of Hertford.

Yesterday the Earl of Bedford, resigned his place of Postmaster General.

The same day Sir Charles Saunders resigned his place as first Lord of the Admiralty.

The earl of Scarborough also resigned his place of Comptroller to his Majesty's household, and Deputy Earl Marshal of England. As did Lord Monson his place of Lord Chief Justice in Eyre of his Majesty's forests South of Trent.

Lord Barrington retires with English Peerage; Col. Barré succeeds as Secretary at war; Mr. Rigby is to be re appointed Vice-Treasurer of Ireland; and near twenty more changes are expected in order the better to forward the so much extolled coalition.

Mr. Lyttelton, appointed Ambassador to the Court of Lisbon, waits only for some particular instructions, before he proceeds on his Embassy.

It is said, that the Right Hon. Lord H———— has given it as his opinion, that the most proper method of treating with Portugal, on the subject of our trade with that crown, would be, to add dignity to the negociation, by having a small English squadron in the Tagus.

Among other ornaments erected to grace the entry of the Queen of Denmark into Copenhagen, was a triumphal arch, 43 cubits high, supported by 14 pillars of the Corinthian order, and near the town house was a frontispiece 35 cubits high, by 53 long, and 15 deep. This last represented a portico of the Corinthian order, resting on ten curious columns;

At the Solemnization of the marriage of her Danish Majesty, the foreign Ministers had places assigned them in the gallery, near the altar; but the two Envoys from England had the honour of standing by the Royal Family. It is said the French Ambassador was present at the ceremony incognito.

The marriage lately solemnized between two noble personages, will (it is strongly affirmed) soon be productive of a suit at law, of so extraordinary nature as to attract, in the highest degree, the attention of the whole nation; owing, we hear, to a most unexampled clause in the will of his lordship's father, deceased.

It is now known that the memorials relative to our Portuguese trade, lately published, were laid before the public by the direction, and under the immediate inspection, of one of our present Ministers, as a necessary step, previous to that important object's coming under the consideration of the legislature.

We hear (however the matter has been kept secret) that Commodore Byron, in his voyage to the South Seas, actually formed and left a small settlement on an uninhabited island ninety leagues to the westward of the continent of America, where there are a capacious harbour, a fertile soil, and a moderate climate.

In the new regulations of the land tax, no cottages under 40s. a year are to be assessed, which must be joyful news to the poor.

Great opposition, we are informed, is to be given to the plan of an act of insolvency (now in agitation) calculated for conforming our laws, in cases of debt, to the laws of Scotland.

A lady who died lately in the North of England, has, we hear, left a neat legacy of one thousand pounds to the Rev. Mr. John Wesley, and also a sum of money to build a chappel, to be built under the said Rev. gentleman's direction.

DECEMBER 1.

A few days since there was a violent quarrel near the Cockpit, Whitehall, insomuch that divers grave and learned persons, grown grey in the honour of their country, could not be constrained from calling each other names.—The cause of the quarrel was a difference of opinion in certain points of law relative to a late embargo.

The Lieutenants of the navy have petitioned for an increase of their half pay, and we are told, a lately created and patriotic Earl has engaged in their behalf, with great heartiness.

DECEMBER 3.

It is said no superior posts in the army will, for the future, be disposed of, or exchanged, without the consent and approbation of his Majesty.

It is confidently asserted, that any considerable change in the Ministry is never effected under an expence to the public of fifty thousand pounds.

We have received the following from France, and are assured it is a genuine copy of a letter, which Mr. WILKES wrote to his Grace the Duke of GRAFTON, First Lord Commissioner of the Treasury.

MY LORD, Nov. 1, 1766.

It is a very peculiar satisfaction I feel on my return to my native country, that a Nobleman of your Grace's superior talents, and inflexible integrity, is at the head of the most important department of State. I have been witness of the general applause, which has been given abroad to the choice his Majesty has made, and I am happy to find my own countrymen zealous and unanimous in every testimony of their approbation.

I hope, my Lord, that I may congratulate myself, as well as my country, on your Grace's being placed in a station of so great power and importance. Though I have been cut off from the body of his Majesty's subjects, by a cruel and unjust proscription, I have never entertained an idea inconsistent with the duty of a good subject. My heart still retains all its former warmth for the dignity of England, and the glory of its Sovereign. I have not associated with the traitors of our liberties, nor made a single connection with any man who was dangerous, or even suspected by the friends of the Protestant Family on the throne. I now hope that the rigour of a long unmerited exile is past, and that I may be allowed to continue in the land, and among the friends of liberty.

I wish, my Lord, to owe this to the mercy of my Prince. I entreat your Grace to lay me with all humility at the King's feet, with the truest assurances that I have never, in any moment of my life, swerved from the duty and allegiance I owe to my Sovereign, and that I implore, and in every thing submit to, his Majesty's Clemency.

Your Grace's noble manner of thinking, and the obligations I have formerly received, which are still fresh in my mind, will, I hope, give a full propriety to this address, and I am sure a heart glowing with the sacred zeal of liberty must have a favourable reception from the Duke of Grafton. I flatter myself, that my conduct will justify your Grace's interceding with a Prince, who is distinguished by a compassionate tenderness and goodness to all his subjects. I am, with the truest respect,

MY LORD,
Your Grace's most obedient,
And most humble servant,
JOHN WILKES.

DECEMBER 4.

The duties on malt, mum, cyder, and perry, will be continued the same as last year.

His Majesty has been pleased to appoint His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland one of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

DECEMBER 6.

The general displeasure which the last administration have conceived for their dismission, is too natural to require explanation; but it seems they had intended to have remained without any violent opposition, had their friends remained in post which were yet undismissed. By some accident it was discovered, that Lord Edg—e was to be removed; the N——e, R——m, and C——h party received this intelligence with great dislike, and sent a message to the M——r, that if that nobleman was removed, they would exert every nerve to oppose him. This declaration of open hostilities could not intimidate the M——r from removing Lord Ed——e; but it induced him to bring about a reconciliation between the present administration and the Duke of B——d and his friends. The powers on both sides are now extremely strong, and the contention may probably be vigorous.

Every man, I think, who is not bound by private interest to one of the parties, will sincerely wish that some stability may now take place for the sake of his country; that men who have had business with the man in office at night, may not be obliged to apply to another the next morning, who is stranger to what has been done; and that those who direct the nation may have leisure to employ their thoughts for the service of it, and not be totally engaged in machination to keep themselves in place, and others out.

Monday se'nnight Lord Edgcumbe resigned.

Next day Lord Bathurst offered to accommodate for Lord Edgcumbe, which being refused, on Wednesday the Duke of Portland, the Lords Bathurst, Scarborough, and Monson, resigned.

Thursday Lord Gower had a conference with Lord Chatham, in Bond street.

Same day at noon Sir Charles Saunders and Admiral Keppel resigned. And it was then believed Lord Gower was destined for the Admiralty.

Next day Lord Gower and Mr. Rigby set out for Woburn, where the Duke of Bedford then was.

On Sunday (or Monday morning at furthest) the place of first Lord of Admiralty was given to Admiral Hawke; and to Sir Piercy Brett, the succession to Admiral Keppel.

On Monday evening the Duke of B——d had a conference with Lord C——m, in Bond-street, which lasted above four hours. At midnight the Duke went to supper at Arthur's, in St. James's-street; where it was declared the negotiation was at an end. Some add, that the cause of its thus breaking off was the Admiralty being given away before his Grace's arrival in town.

Tuesday his Grace of B—— set out for his seat at Woburn, all negotiation with him and his friends being entirely at an end.

Charles Jenkinson, Esq; (who was Secretary to the Treasury when Lord Bute was at the head of that board) is appointed a Lord of the Admiralty, in the room of Sir William Meredith.

Lord Le Despencer (who was Chancellor of the Exchequer during the same period) it is said, will have a very high and lucrative employment.

It is said, and believed, that the Lords Temple, Rockingham, the Duke of B——, Mr. Grenville, and all their friends, will now unite, and form a powerful opposition.

The Duke of Ancaster is appointed master of the horse to the King; and the Lord Delawar Master of the Horse to the Queen.

A promotion of Admirals and Flag-officers, will be made in a few days.

It is remarkable, that the right honourable the Earl of Hertford has possessed four of the principal places under the government, in the space of little more than a twelvemonth, viz. those of Ambassador to France, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, Master of the horse, and present Lord Chamberlain of the Household.

We hear that an insurance office is soon to be established for insuring places in the administration, from one week to a twelvemonth, at —— per week.

We hear that his Excellency Count de Guerchy will go over to France next summer, and will not return here as Ambassador from that Court, a Duke and Peer of France being already appointed to supply his place.

The noble plan of an equal land tax is obliged to be laid aside till a new parliament.

The Grenvillian administration having refused (for such we are strongly assured is the case) to resume a share in the administration, unless on the terms denied to be granted to them when they resigned; this great obstacle highly impedes the desired settlement of a reformed, capable, and permanent ministry, and leaves the nation to the mercy of other bargain-makers!

The Lords of the Board of Trade have issued orders for the annual returns of the British custom houses, relative to the exports and imports to and from Portugal trade, which has never been yet so minutely scrutinized into, as to be exactly known.

It has been repeatedly advanced in all the papers, that a foreign Duke, lately arrived, and of large possessions, was to be naturalized and made a Duke of this Realm. Upon the strictest enquiry into the truth of this very singular circumstance, we do not find sufficient foundation for such report, or even of any foreign Duke being arrived here. However, the nobleman meant to be pointed out is, plainly, the Marquis (not the Duke) de Fitzjames. The Marquis, now here, is the eldest son of the Duke de Fitzjames, and grandson to the Duke of Berwick, who was illegitimate son of King James the Second: but as the Duke de Fitzjames is now in France, and in high favour at the French Court, and as no difference (that we can hear) subsists between the Marquis and the Duke his Father, we cannot but treat all the talk of his Lordship's being to be naturalized, and to settle here, as a mere fable.

The East India affair, it is now said, will, on Tuesday next, certainly come on.

WHEREAS the former advertisements requesting all persons indebted to MIDDLETON, LISTON and HOPE, to settle and pay off their accompts by the first instant, have not answered the end intended; and as the death of Col. Middleton makes it absolutely necessary that all the affairs relative to the said co-partnership should be immediately settled: Notice is therefore for the last time given, that all bonds, notes and accompts due to the said co-partnership, either in Charles Town, Beaufort, or St. Helena, are now lodged in the hands of Mr. Thomas Liston, to whom it is expected that immediate payment will be made; and that such bonds, notes, and accompts as shall not be discharged before the first day of March next, will then be put in the hands of an attorney, to be sued for without distinction.

SOUTH-CAROLINA,

(L. S.)

By the honourable EGERTON LEIGH, Esq; sole Judge of his Majesty's high Court of Vice Admiralty.

EGERTON LEIGH, J. V. A.

WHEREAS a certain libel was on the tenth day of December last exhibited and filed in this court by Samuel Prevosts, and Samuel Rhodes, of the city of Philadelphia, for recovery of certain sums of money borrowed by one William Earl of Rhode-Island, on the bottom of certain sloop called the Industry, her tackle, furniture and apparel, which said William Earl is sole owner of the said sloop.

AND WHEREAS in support of the actors demand an exemplification of the original bill of bottomry, from some public office in Philadelphia was produced, but unaccompanied with any evidence of a subsisting debt, notwithstanding the said libellers did, by their libel, aver, that the debt sued for is unsatisfied, and that no part thereof is paid, and it appearing to me that the proofs in this cause were insufficient in law for me to decree a condemnation and sale of the said vessel; I did therefore, on mature deliberation, interlocutorily order and adjudge, that the said vessel should remain in the charge and custody of the marshal of this court, and that the libellers shall transmit the original bill of bottomry, or give due proof that the debt demanded is still subsisting and unsatisfied; and also, that the said William Earl, the owner, shall have notice to come in and contest the merits of the actors libel.

THESE ARE THEREFORE to cite and admonish the said William Earl, the owner of the said sloop Industry, to be, and appear before me, at the usual place of judicature, in Charles-Town, within three calendar months from the date hereof, to shew cause, (if any they have) why the said vessel should not be condemned agreeable to the prayer of the actors libel.

THE honourable Commons House of Assembly of this province, have voted and ordered the sum of Five Thousand Pounds to be remitted to Barbados, for the relief of the unhappy sufferers by the late fires in that island.

Counterfeit Bills are abroad, in imitation of the current money of this province, and very well done, of the denomination of ONE POUND, TEN SHILLINGS, SEVEN SHILLINGS & SIX PENCE, and FIVE SHILLINGS.

The exportation of Indian Corn and Peafe from Georgia, is prohibited, by a late act of Assembly of that province, until the 1st day of September next.

Seven Traders from Virginia, were found murdered near Cowhee, in the Cherokee Country the 9th of last month, but none of their goods touch'd. The Northern Indians continue their incursions into that country, but those murders are supposed to have been perpetrated by Cherokees, in the way of taking satisfaction for former injuries received from the Virginians.

Saturday afternoon arrived here his Majesty's packet-boat the Duncannon, commanded by Capt. Charles Edwards, in 14 days from Penfacola; by which we have advice, that all the Spanish Galleons which had been drove ashore in St. Bernard's Bay (as formerly mentioned) were entirely lost, and the people belonging to them gone to Havana, having saved nothing but money, and even lost some of that: ——That the Chactahs and Creeks continued irreconcileable, and it was thought the Chicasahs would assist the former: ——That so violent a disagreement had arisen, and subsisted, between the French and Spaniards at New-Orleans, that the Spanish Governor, Don Juan d'Ulloa, had been obliged to retire, for safety, to the island of Balize, where he daily expected 300 more troops from Cuba, in order to procure him quiet possession of the country; the French settled in New-Orleans having the strongest aversion to a Spanish government: That his Excellency George Johnstone, Esq; Governor of West Florida, embarked and sailed for England the 23th past, from Penfacola, in the brigt. Betsey, Capt. Fea, and the government had thereby devolved upon the hon. Montfort Browne, Esq; lieutenant governor: That tho' they had few goods at Penfacola for the Spanish trade, yet there was on the 25th past in that port, a Spanish snow, a brigantine, a schooner and a sloop, with a considerable quantity of Dollars on board of each; and was the trade properly encouraged, it would be very considerable there.

On Friday last arrived here, in the sloop Betsey, Paul Dains master, from New York, an officer and 50 recruits for the 3 companies of his Majesty's 60th (or Royal American) Regiment, stationed in this province.

In Capt. Schermerhorn from New-York, who arrived here last Monday, returned the ingenious Mr. William Johnson, well known for his exhibitions here last year, in that useful branch of natural Philosophy called ELECTRICITY; who, we hear, intends, as soon as he has a proper room to set up his apparatus in, to renew his exhibitions, with improvements.

On Monday last, the Schooner Good-Intent, William Blyth master, (a coaster) sailed early in the morning from Winyah Bar, for this port, and afterwards met with such bad weather, that the sea made several breaches over her: In the afternoon, attempting to come in at the Middle or Swash Bar, she struck and beat off her rudder, and so soon after filled, fell on her broadside, and sunk in the channel, that the people on board with difficulty saved their lives. Some days after, the vessel was again found, and some rum and indico saved; since which she was towed some distance, and again sunk, near Sullivant's-Island, and entirely lost. Her cargo, we hear, consisted of 20 hogsheads of Rum, 200 barrels of Pork, upwards of 20,000 pounds of Indico, 100 bushels of Hemp, and other articles; which, together with the vessel were valued at more than £.4000 sterling. Some Planters had their whole crop of Indico on board: Amongst the principal sufferers in the loss of that article, we are told, Messrs. Brewton & Smith, Claudius Pegues, Philip Pledger, Anthony Pawley, George Hicks, Benjamin Rogers, Thomas Bingham, Samuel Butler, Abel Wiles, and David Evans, are the most considerable.

We are informed, that a ship from Glasgow was lost about a fortnight ago, near the bar of Cape Fear, to which river she was bound.

Capt. Dunbar, who arrived here the 28th past from Portsmouth, on the 18th of December, in lat. 20. 27, N. and long. 22 W. from London, spoke with the ship Jeffe, George Briggs master, from Liverpoole, bound for Africa, all well on board.

The 29th past put in here, the sloop Ellen, Thomas Hardy master, from Tortola, bound for Virginia.

The Brigt. Harriotts, John Richey master, of and for this port, from Jamaica, on the 26th past, at one o'clock in the morning, was driven by the current upon a reef at the S. W. end of Henaaga, where she immediately filled, and was entirely lost. The Captain and part of the crew are brought here by Capt. Francis Dickinson.

About the same time, the schooner William, George Smith master, of and for Jamaica, was lost on the Grand Caicos's.

A schooner, of and from Philadelphia, for Jamaica, one Lowder master, was also lost about a month ago, on Maguana.

The schooner Robert and Jenny, John Roberts master, from Providence, is arrived at Beaufort, Port Royal.
